

Dear Supplier:

I am pleased to share with you Victaulic's Supplier Code of Conduct (the "Code"). The Code outlines our ethical expectations concerning labor practices and human rights, health and safety, environmental protection, and business management. Our stakeholders expect our organization and our entire network of business partners to operate in an honest and ethical manner, in accordance with applicable laws and regulations, and guided by shared values and policies.

Like Victaulic's employees, management and board members, our suppliers (as well as their suppliers and contractors) have an obligation to create and maintain safe working conditions. Supplier's employees must be treated fairly and respectfully, and products and services must be developed and delivered responsibly and in an environmentally conscious way.

We ask that all suppliers and sub-contractors adhere to this Code, including following proper procedures for reporting actual or suspected violations to our organization as specified herein.

As a supplier, you are responsible for knowing and adhering to all applicable regulations and performing due diligence on your suppliers, agents and subcontractors to ensure their compliance with those regulations and with this Code. You have an obligation to report any actual or suspected violations of the Code directly to Victaulic's Compliance department at Compliance@victaulic.com. Everyone in our supply chain will be selected and evaluated on an ongoing basis using these measures, among others. Failure to comply with these essential requirements may jeopardize a supplier's relationship with our organization. Thank you for your cooperation and your continued business with Victaulic.

Sincerely,

SUPPLIER CODE OF CONDUCT

Victaulic's Supplier Code of Conduct (the "Code") describes corporate responsibility requirements for our suppliers. Victaulic has a long-standing commitment to conducting its procurement business in an ethical, legal, environmentally and socially responsible manner, and this commitment extends to its diverse and worldwide supply base.

It is Victaulic's expectation that all suppliers acknowledge and accept the terms of this Code and meet its requirements. Suppliers are expected to be familiar with the business practices of their suppliers, agents, and subcontractors and ensure they operate within the guidelines of this Code. Failure to comply with this Code may result in the discontinuance of business relationships and termination of any current or future contracts with Victaulic.

Raising Ethical Concerns

Any time a business partner fails to live up to the ethical standards established by our organization, the reputation and viability of both entities may be seriously and negatively affected. To establish, preserve and protect an ethical workplace, each of our partners has a critical responsibility to be alert for red flags of ethical violations and to address them as soon as possible.

Victaulic expects its suppliers to speak up promptly to report questionable behavior, concerns, or actual or potential violations of this Code discovered within their organization or among their subcontractors. Suppliers should also raise concerns when proper procedures relating to our business together are not being followed, even if they are not certain whether there are legal or ethical violations. Please contact Victaulic's Compliance department at Compliance@victaulic.com and our team will work with the supplier to implement recommended action plans to correct non-compliance within a specified time.

Our Non-Retaliation Policy

To encourage business partners to report and discuss ethical concerns without fear of negative personal consequences, Victaulic has a strict non-retaliation policy. Any supplier who makes a report in good faith will not be retaliated against by anyone in our organization.
